For Further Discussion

A little-known story from David's life involves a man named Mephibosheth. It's in 2 Samuel 9. What can we learn about hospitality from it?

How is hospitality evidence of our faith?

An essential part of loving others is putting their needs in front of your own. Read Philippians 2:1-5. Is this possible? How?

What considerations do we need to be aware of, if we are to be hospitable to strangers? Should we invite them to our home? What are the risks? Rewards? Where are the boundaries?

What are some of the costs associated with putting our love in action?

Who are some of the hardest people to extend love to?

How can we show empathy to those who are suffering or imprisoned in today's context?

What are some next steps to take personally or as a group?
